Politeness Pays.

Perhaps we are too apt to regard po-liteness as a mere vencer. The pleasant

A good manner, like the good nature that is a part of it, is not a thing to be thrown off and on with a dress coat. It is of the man as the aroma is of the rose; says the Quincy Journal.

The polite man is at a tremendous advantage. He can win favor and fortune under circumstances where the loose-mannered and slovenly-spirited is left to grumble in failure. It is not altogether because of his politeness. It is chiefly because of the sterling character that lies back of it and gives it Politeness is a good capital in any business. A Cleveland street car con ductor has proved it so and so has ev ery other man who ever made good manners a part of his equipment.

This conductor gave a little better service than he was supposed to be paid for. He was careful of the com-fort and safety of the children, the ladies, the old men and the cripples who rode on his car. He met queru-lous complaints with pleasant smiles and kindly words.

He collected no more fares for the company than any other conductor. He was no more efficient and faithful in other respects than perhaps hundreds

But, somehow, that one advantage was sufficient. In his kindness to his passengers he was unconsciously kind to himelf. He came to be selected for special runs where courtesy was of special importance. And now he has been made a dispatcher.

He has won his way to a good place by his politeness, just as millions of other men have done in other lines before him and as millions more will do in time to come. Politeness pays.

It attracts friends and good fortune

It attracts friends and good fortune.

It is a well-spring of well wishes.

It creates about a man an atmosphere in which "luck" loves to linger.

Most of us seem to think the world owes us much and that we owe the world nothing. We seem to be on our world against giving any more in serguard against giving any more in vice than we are actually paid for. Even our smiles we reserve unless we chance to coin them into ready cash. We go through life grabbing and grumbling, giving nothing to employ-er or public, but what is specifically called for in the contract.

And there is where we make a seri-ous mistake. Only as we give do we grow. Only as we lift others do we lift ourselves. Only as we bring joy into life do we really live,

All little deeds of love or thoughtfulness sown by his hand yield a certain and abundant barvest. She may love her home bet-ter than any other spot on earth, yet she sometimes gets so weary of the daily routine of never-ending duties that fall to her lot that she cannot help an occasional feeling of envy for those who have more time for recreation, for going abroad, for all the little things dear to the heart of every woman, but which the stern hand of duty debars her from enjoying. Still, for all that, smiles, the spirit of helpfulness, the she would not for the whole world ex-ready sacrifice are not of the exterior change places even if she could, with change places even if she could, with any woman, leaving home and Johndear old John—as the price of her free don, from care. > Appreciate your mother while yo mony of young women who have los nother that they did not realize what she was to them until after her exi from this life. Indeed, mother is in the appreciation of many a young lady a hindrance. The material inspection is often considered an obstacle. Mother has so many notions about that which is proper and that which is improper It is astounding how much more many girls know at eighteen than their mothers at forty-five.

As we passed along the street on a recent Sunday we counted twenty-zev-en young men, most of them in their teens, just budding into manhood, loit-ering their time away. As we looked into their faces, many of them lighted up by the beacon rays of a poor cigar or the penicious cigarette, we recog nize them as young men blessed with comfortable homes, indulgent parents and loving sisters. We ask ourselves why it is? Why do these young mer prefer the unclean resorts, comfortless streets and mixed society to the up holstered chair, the pleasant and comfortable surroundings of the family circle at home?

For the best and deepest enjoyments that come to us, little we realize how much is due to smiles. Savages do no smile: coarse,brutal, cruel men may laugh, but they seldom smile. The afediction the radiance which "Fills the silence like a speech is the smile of a full appreciative heart.

Push! It is just the word for the grand, clear morning of life; it is just the word for strong arms and young hearts; it is just the word for a world that is full o fwork as this is. If anybody is in trouble, and you see it, don't stand back, push!

We are wholesale shippers of green salted veal calf hides, heads off, 16c fb, for dried flint, 30c fb, for old cow. We pay one third the value, if the cow is valued at $20.00 we pay $10 for her hide if the weight is in hide. No. 1 horse hide $5.10, No. 2 $2.50, No. 3 $1.50. Tub washed spring wool 33c and 36c. We carry up-to-date fancy groceries. Sell at hammer down prices. We buy at hammer down prices. Bob White gallon cane syrup 25c. The can worth 10c off, only 25c for the syrup leaving 7c for the syrup. Other dealers sell this syrup 10c higher, and the small cans 15c higher than we do. The reason is we buy in quantities, ship-ped from factory, freight paid. They give us 18 cans of the 35c kind free. If any one lose his cow don't sell her hide to any one who wont advertise, for you sure will not get her worth and value. We ship big tanners. Lemons for sale, bananas, and ice cream every Friday, Saturday and Sunday. We sell loaf bread every Friday from Louisa to Blaine, Ky., hot 6c loaf, 2 loaves 11c, 2 loaves 17c or 65c per doz. Can't make so many stops for less, perishable goods will not keep over five days.

We retail pure lard at 12 1-2c, comound at 10c. We can't sell on credit.
'e pay cash down in hand and we have the cash, and it is the right way to retail goods and hold your trade. Some fellows will get in debt $100, then on lose a night, the other fellow getting the cream, and you being on go-back. We have got the goods if the other fellow hasn't bought them and we sell them to some one else. We buy right and sell right. Get right and stay right. The big dealers are after us ev ery day with hammer down prices. We pay and the world can't beat it. So buy your goods where you save the penny and the dimes. We keep ice cold pop in our refrigerator at store. Give us a call and you will come again. We do more business than any ten stores in our country. Freight one thousand dollars a year.
